

Please take note that there is NO more hosting available for the 2015 Conference in Cape Town, South Africa. Hosting is limited and was assigned on a “first come, first served basis”. The deadline for hosting requests was dependant on how quickly the hosting spots filled up. We are excited to announce that hosting is now full, and has been closed since the end July for this reason. We are unfortunately not able to assist with further hosting requests.

If you still want to attend the Four12 Conference you are most welcome to register and join us (<https://www.four12global.com/events/conference-hosted-in-cape-town-october-2015/>), however please can you find alternative accommodation options for the duration.

Thank you very much,

The Four12 Admin Team
